THE OPEN GATE GARDEN

We are well into the second season with twenty three beds spoken for, a good start on the garden shed and plans for more beds and landscaping the common areas.

A big thank you goes out to everyone who has helped us get a variety of materials to fill the beds; Doug Trask for the well rotted manure; Jonathon Mazereeuw, Brian Taphorn, John Tranquair and Jim Bartlett for the sandy river loam and the Regional District Fraser Fort George for the compost. Most of the this dirt will be used to fill nine new beds.

I would also like to thank Kelly Harding and Norm Jackson for volunteering to help our contractor, Leah Redmond, with the construction of the shed. Having a skilled crew on site at one of our work bees inspired a safety meeting which raised awareness of possible dangers in a construction zone. This is a great example of community learning.

We would also like to thank Ernie Klappart for being such a good neighbour.

The Open Gate Garden would not have been possible without the dedication of the Robson Valley Community Learning Task Group. Thank you to each of you (you know who you are!), to all of our supporters and to all new the community gardeners who are coming on board this summer. Our vision is now a reality. We will be at the Healthcaulair Fair, and Pioneer Days and at the Open Gate Garden this weekend. We'll be happy to give you a tour through the garden.

With much gratitude, Nancy Taylor, Community Literacy Outreach Coordinator.
